Thanks For The Memories

Sleeping At Last

Thank you for every smile and for every memory.
Oh, I miss all the times
That we could just laugh
At the way we were.
And how we maintained a smile
In the worst of times.
And all the simple words you would say
That could make every day beautiful.
Thank you for every smile and for every memory.

And every time that I looked into your eyes
I knew that we were forever.
But I forgot that we were fragile.
Every second that you were around
Made me appreciate every moment
In this life
