

Something Bigger

Satellites

Open arms across a turbulent water

Don't look down just walk to me I got you

Something unpredictable just walked into the room I am in

Now it's inconceivable that I ever spent time here before

Old man with arms of steel wrapped around you

I tell myself over again, I tell myself over again

Haven't you noticed there's something bigger

Haven't you noticed there's something bigger

There's an old man sitting in a home by a window

Re-running scenes from a sepia memory

Heading to a pinnacle ambition that's not shared by the bones "There there now dear" go the nurses counting down to the weekend

Taking bets if he's here Monday

Run old man as fast as you can

Run, run, run fast as you can

Haven't you noticed there's something bigger

Haven't you noticed there's something bigger

Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlrics.com/>