Break My Little Heart In Two

Carlene Carter

I've been around enough to know
When a man is lying it's bound to show
The truth is written on his face
And love is in the capital case
Guilty of these crimes of heart
Treats cheating like a finer art
He proclaims undying love
I wonder who he's speaking of Cause all he ever seems to do is
Break my little heart in twoThere's twenty million men out there
You'd think I'd find me one who cares
Show me some security
I'm losing sweet serenity
I can't keep up with who did what
Oh this affair ain't fair enough
Men like him they love the chase
Girls, give him time, he'll throw the race
All he's ever gonna do is
Break my little heart in twoBRIDGE
I can't pretend I understand
What makes a woman want a man
All he ever seems to do
Is break my little heart in two
(Giving in?) or giving up
Oh this affair ain't fair enough
Cause all he's ever gonna do
Is break my little heart in twoWell I lock the door, jump in the car
But I never seem to get too far
Round the corner, hit the gas
Drive fast enough I'll outrun the past
Play the radio real loud
It's days like this make mamas proud
Feeling free feels good to me
Then I'm right back where I used to be
All he's ever gonna do is ...
(Oh, you know it's sad but true ...)
All he's ever gonna do is
Break my little heart in two
Break my little heart in two
