

Enemy (Djeff Afrozila Remix)

The Weeknd

Oh oh, oh oh

So back, I'm so bad, I'm so bad Can I be honest with you please?

It's really hard for me to speak right now

Girl, I been drinkin' all day

It's been a long week

Can't you tell by my face?

I wanna lose myself between your legs

I wanna make your body shake

Girl, if you drink this fifth, no chase

I promise you'll have nothing to say, nothing to say 'Cause the least I deserve is no conversation

I been working all week

I'd rather be your enemy

Than any friend you think I would be I'm just tryin' take you home without a word

Now I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word

Girl I'm just trying to lay you down without a word

Girl I'm just trying to get you high without a word

Girl I'm just trying to make you numb without a word

Girl I'm just trying to make you cum without a word

Girl I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word

Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word Please, please, please

Let me, let me, let me

Let me, get what I want this time Ooh yeah, ooh yeah, ooh yeah I forgot what it feels to regret my sins

I need that old thing back baby

You can help me out baby

You remind me of a feeling that I used to have

So I don't know what to expect from you tonight

But I'm not trying to waste nobody's time

I'm just trying to find material, some inspiration

We can put it in a song, if you want 'Cause the least I deserve is no conversation

I been working all week

I'd rather be your enemy

Than any friend you think I would be, oh yeah I'm just tryin' take you home without a word

And I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word

And I'm just trying to lay you down without a word

And I'm just trying to get you high without a word

And I'm just trying to make you numb without a word

And I'm just trying to make you cum without a word

And I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word

Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word

Without a word
Ooh, let me, let me, let me
I'll never fall for a girl like you
I'll never understand what you're going through
But your body wild, and your head game too
You lookin' at my nigga, you can have him too
'Cause baby, I ain't cuffing girl, I hope you knew
There ain't nothin' wrong, you can pick and choose
Just don't call tomorrow askin' "what did I do?"
You know what you did, all to blame is you
Now the least I deserve is no conversation
I been working all week
I'd rather be your enemy
Than any friend you think I would be
I'm just tryin' take you home without a word
Girl I'm just trying to kiss your neck without a word
Girl I'm just trying to lay you down without a word
Girl I'm just trying to get you high without a word
Girl I'm just trying to make you numb without a word
Girl I'm just trying to make you cum without a word
Girl I'm just trying to make you sleep without a word
Girl, I'm just trying to let you leave without a word
Without a word
