I Never Can Relax

Hellogoodbye

I saw the city from the window of an airplane
I got bummed and I thought
There's nothing except for a lot
I was too anxious to get anything accomplished
My mind floated around
While I tried pulling it down
I have so many things that I can't find a place for
My head got overrun and
These things are no more fun
I tried to shake it but it shook me down completely
There's no telling right now
But I tried spelling it out
Oh, I fall asleep but not so easily as I might
Oh, I try to keep every little thing in mind
Awake, I poured out all my heart
That's not the saddest part
All this time I had thought there'd be more
Oh, it was like there was nothing to pour
Oh, I can't be sure
Oh, I never can relax
I never can relax, I never can relax
Oh, I never can relax
I never can relax, I never can relax
Oh, I fall asleep but not so easily as I might
Oh, I try to keep every little thing in mind
I never can relax, I never can relax
I never can relax, I never can relax
