

No Purpose In Life

Nae'Blis

Delusional ants on an overcrowded hill
Struggling on, like the surrounding mirroring ghosts
    Runing in circles
    Confined by the patterns
    But who is to judge a change of direction?
    We're all actors... but no one is watching our Performance...
        No salvation
    No notes to be compared at the end of the road
        No damnation
    No winner will be crowned,
        No champion selected
    All honour soon forgotten in the everlasting show
        No judgements
    All sings of existence... erased
        -Am I going to die?
        -Yes... How does that make you fell?
        - I feel nothing...
    Dont wait up for salvation
    Cause there's no purpose in life
    No pearly gates on the other side
        There's no purpose in life
        No how - crowned majesty
        To bless you for your sins
    To die - to leave this place behind
        Means nothing in the end...
