Eighteen Visions

She couldn't kill me from the start
She thought that she could break my heart
I'm not the one that's been held down
Because you're the one that's letting me go See me dancing in the rain see me I'm insane
If you could feel my pain then you'd know She couldn't kill me from the start
She thought that she could break my heart
I'm not the one that's been held down
Because you're the one that's letting me go See me dancing in the rain see me I'm insane
If you could feel my pain then you'd know I'll try to run and hid this hot pink is way too bright
I'm pretty in pink and these looks could kill if she finds me This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright
This hot pink is way too bright, yeah I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract I could be so abstract
That I don't want to tell
I could be so abstract
I wouldn't tell her the truth But would she leave me alone?
If she knew that I was on fire
But would she leave me alone?
If she knew that I was on fire She couldn't kill me from the start
She though she could break my heart Yeah, you're only holding me down
Yeah and I won't want you around
Sugar, sugar please leave me alone
Sugar, sugar please leave me alone
Sugar, sugar please leave me alone
Sugar, sugar please leave me alone Sugar, sugar
Sugar, sugar
Sugar, sugar
Sugar, sugar I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract
I could be so abstract Tell me tell me
Don't you fucking tell me tell me that I'm wrong
Tell me tell me that I'm wrong

Tell me tell me that I'm wrong
Tell me tell me that Don't you fucking tell me tell me
Don't you fucking tell me tell me
Don't you fucking tell me tell me
Don't you fucking tell me tell me
Don't you fucking tell me
