So

Smiling Bulldogs

Filled up with doubt
I have to move home
But I want to stay with you
For all of the summer
I have my plan
That you won?t remember
If you want to see the world
Then please ask your mother
I cannot hold your hand
To watch you go
I am a liar
As you might know
I need you now
I need your touch
And your lips
I need that smile
And your kiss

You?re so cool
You?re so beautiful
You?re so
You?re so

I see your grace
From my window
When it is late at night
It?ll show me your shadow
I?m in my place

Hope you remember
When summer?s gone
I?ll still sing a song
Of you in September
I cannot hold your hand
To watch you go
I am a liar
As you might know
I need you now
I need your touch

And your lips
I need that smile
And your kiss

You?re so cool
You?re so beautiful
You?re so
You?re so

These words I say mean
You?re so amazing
I?ve noticed lately
I need you, maybe

You?re so cool
You?re so beautiful
You?re so
You?re so
