

Simple Things

Joey Diamond

Baby its the simple things baby its the little things i wanna take the time to recognize exactly what im felling for you i appreciate our first date never got bored conversating with yousee i know that we were ment to be together and your time that's all i ask there's nothing better don't gotta spend a dime your doing just finebaby its the simple things, the simple things that you do for me baby its the little things, that mean something real to me (to me)baby take my hand and hold on tight lets watch the stars fall down into the sky wanna stay up late all through the night as long as your right here by my sideyeah i know i know that we were meant to be together and the time you spend with me there's nothing better don't gotta spend a dime your doing just fineeeeeebaby its the simple things, the simple things that you do for me baby its the little things that mean something real to me (to me) baby its the simple things, the simple things that you do for me baby its the little things that mean something real to me (to me)and i love it how you make me smile more and more each day baby its you who makes me feel completebaby its the simple things, the simple things that you do for me baby its the little things that mean something real to me (to me)
baby its the simple things, the simple things that you do for me baby its the little things that mean something real to me (to me)ohh yeahh simmple thinngs
