

Wake Up

The Family Ruin

I've got the eyes of a liar and a life that I can't forget
Got the mind of a thief and a heart full of grief
But I'm hungry to get respect
I'll come digging up your grave, if I've gotta be depraved
Just to prove I'm not insane If you stop and you wait, hesitate, then you will never wake
From this nightmare we're living in Wake up, wake up
You've been living in a dream if you think this is really as sweet as it tastes
Cause the truth's to bitter to swallow
So wake up face up to the pain of tomorrow
Cause when I am done with you, you won't forget my name You won't forget my, you won't forget my name Take a seat, take a drink, take your mind off it
No shit, you feel sick; that's a side effect
I know I'm gonna be the man of your dreams
Because you ain't gonna wake tonight If you stop and you wait, hesitate, then you will never wake
From this nightmare we're living in Wake up, wake up
You've been living in a dream if you think this is really as sweet as it tastes
Cause the truth's to bitter to swallow
So wake up face up to the pain of tomorrow
Cause when I am done with you, you won't forget my name Cause when I am done with you, you won't forget my name The world will bring you to your knees
But that's nothing compared to me
If you stop and you wait, then you will never wake
From this nightmare we're living in
