

Brought to the Water

Deafheaven

Where has my passion gone?
Has it been carried off by some
Lonely driver in a line of florescent light?Has it been blurred together
In ribboned patterns on the night?Along the stretch of some unnamed plane
We began againI saw in your face that
We're the same when we began againA multiverse of fuchsia
And violet surrenders to blackness nowMy world closes its eyes to
Sex and laughterMy world closes its eyes to
Sex and laughterMy world closes its eyes to
Sex and laughterMy world closes its eyes to
Sex and laughter
