

Once Again

Billy Ray Cyrus

Moonlight come callin',
On my window pane,
Ain't seen the sunlight,
Lord I felt the rain on my skin,
You're not here once again I check my cellphone, I read my mail,
Cold wind keeps blowin',
Right behind your sail,
And you keep goin',
When will this misery end
Your picture's in my head,
I feel my heart break once again,
You know I loved you,
Still you chose to leave back then Though I've been broken,
There's still hope that I can mend,
If I could see you once again
If I could see you once again Moonlight keep callin',
On my window pane,
Ain't seen the sunlight,
Lord I felt the rain on my skin,
You're not here once again
Cold wind keep blowin',
I feel my heart break once again,
You know I love you,
I feel my heart break once again,
