

Livin In Exile

Blood for Blood

Advisory - the following lyrics contain explicit language:

I'm in exile
I been livin' in exile
I been hangin' on the corner, starin' at the night sky, and watchin' the cars drive by
Their faces stare but they don't see me as I think about the past an I wonder why,
I wonder why
A side of life they'll never see has passed before my jaded eyes I'm on the outside lookin' in
I hold the burning tears inside my heart
I been runnin', I been runnin' with the hunted, I been runnin' for my whole life
I'm in exile
And I got nothin' but a hope inside, in my heart where hope has died
I been livin' in exile
Tears and pain like a stinging rain, have passed before my eyes
I'm in exile
Forsaken!
Forgotten!
If you haven't been there then you'll never understand
I've stolen, I've lied, I've traded my pride,
'cause I never had a helping hand
They'll steal your innocence and they'll take away your soul
I've stolen, I've lied and there were times when there wasn't anyplace to go
So let's go!
I been runnin', I been runnin' with the hunted,
I been runnin' for my whole life
I'm in exile
And I got nothin' but a hope inside, in my heart where hope has died
I been livin' in exile
Tears and pain like a stinging rain, have passed before my eyes
I'm in exile

How many tears have our mothers cried?
How many of my kind have died?
So I stand here to spit in your eye and tell you your society is nothing but lies They'll look us up and hold us down,
just another wasted youth, another dead end town
I been waiting so long
And now my hope is gone
There's gotta be something more than this There's gotta be something that I missed
I'm in exile
I been runnin', I been runnin' with the hunted, I been runnin' for my whole life
I'm in exile
And I got nothin' but a hope inside, in my heart where hope has died
I been livin' in exile
Tears and pain like a stinging rain, have passed before my eyes
I'm in exile
How many tears have they torn from my eyes?
How many times will we be denied?
They lock us up and they hold us down,
just another wasted youth, another dead end town
I been waiting so long
I been waitning now my hope is... gone
