

Beloved

Marvin Sapp

Beloved when you think of what the Lord has done

Every victory that he has won

The fact that you did not make it here on your own

It ought to make you say (thank you)

Beloved when you think about the price you paid

How on cavalry your soul he saved

The fact that he suffered, bled and died for your sin

It ought to make you say (thank you)

Thanks not expresses no thanks at all

Every now and then you ought to testify

Cause we overcome by the blood of the lamb

And the word of our testimony

He saved me (he saved me), he raised me (he saved me)

He healed me (he healed me) and he felt me (he felt me)

I love him (I love him), I love him (I love him), I love him

Lift everything (your last breath, lift your voice and say)

You ought to tell him (Lord I thank you)Beloved, I don't know what you been going through

But I know that he's been good to you

Because you're still alive today, that's enough

To open up your mouth and say (thank you)

Beloved, yes he did it once and he'll do it again

Because he's always been the type of friend

He's the same yesterday, today and forever

You really ought to say (thank you)

(Thanks not expresses no thanks at all)

(And every now and then you ought to testify)

(We overcome by the blood of the lamb)

(And the word of our testimony)

He saved me (he saved me), and he raised me (he saved me)

Man he healed me (he healed me) and he felt me (he felt me)

I love him (I love him), I love him (I love him), I love him

Lift everything (your last breath, lift your voice and say)

Lord I thank you (Lord I thank you)

He saved me (he saved me), and he raised me (he saved me)

Man he healed me (he healed me) and he felt me (he felt me)

Said I love him (I love him), I love him (I love him), say I love him

And everything (your last breath, lift your voice and say)
