Your Heat Is Rising

Electric Six

I didn't do anything last year
Except for dream of doing nothing, this year
So put your finger in my ear
Because your heat is rising
Your heat is arising

Anytime you wanna leave your lover for me
Would be a good time to leave your lover, for me
So come lose your ooze upon my knee
Because your heat is arising
Your heat is arising

'Cause flies like these enable thieves to steal from your mind
And everything you once believed you must leave it all behind
Because your heat is rising
Your heat is arising

Come young children one by one
Stare directly into the sun
Look in my eyes and point your steely guns
Into my evil horizon
Because your heat is arising

'Cause flies like these enable thieves to steal from your mind
And everything you once believed you must leave it all behind
Because your heat is rising
Your heat is arising
