

Angry

Matchbox 20

So scream you, out from behind the bitter ache
You're hanging on the memory, you need most
You still want love, love's ugly, smooth and delicate
But not without affection, but not alone
Instead of wishing that it would get better
Man you're seeing that you just get angrier
And it's good that I'm not angry
Well I need to get over
Well I, I'm not angry anymore
Cry when you cry, run when you run
Love when you love
We'll now represent the ashes
That you leave behind
Instead of wishing that the road had shoulder
Man you're seeing that you're sinking over time and you're blind
And it's good that I'm not angry
Well I need to get over
Well I, I'm not angry
How it's dragging me under
Well I, I'm not angry, angry, yeah
I'm not angry it's never been enough
It gets inside and it tears you up
And I'm not angry and I've never been above it
You see through me don't you? Yeah
And it's good that I'm not angry
Well I need to get over
And I, I'm not angry
How it's dragging me under
Well I, I'm not angry
And it's good that I'm not angry, oh anymore
