All Woman

Lisa Stansfield

He's home again from another day She smiles at him as he walks through the door She wonders if it will be okay It's hard for her when he doesn't respondHe says, "Babe you look a mess You look dowdy in that dress" It's just not like it used to be Then she says"I may not be a lady but I'm all woman From Monday to Sunday I work harder than you know I'm no classy lady but I'm all woman And this woman needs a little love to make her strong You're not the only one "She stands there and lets the tears flow Tears that she's been holding back so long She wonders where did all the loving go The love they used to share when they were strongShe says, "Yes, I look a mess But I don't love you any less I thought you always thought enough of me To always be impressed""I may not be a lady but I'm all woman From Monday to Sunday I work my fingers to the bone I'm no classy lady but I'm all woman This woman needs a little love to make her strong

You're not the only one"He holds her and hangs his head in shame
He doesn't see her like he used to do

He doesn't see her like he used to do

He's too wrapped up in working for his pay He hasn't seen the pain he's put her throughAttention that he paid

Just vanished in the haze

He remembers how it used to be

When he used to say"You'll always be a lady 'cause you're all woman

From Monday to Sunday I love you much more than you know

You're a classy lady 'cause you're all woman

This woman needs a loving man to keep her warm

You're the only one

You're a classy lady 'cause you're all woman"So sweet the love that used to be

So sweet the love that used to be

We can be sweet again
