Antifreeze

can i ask you something amanda, as i am calling you today? do you miss me the same way that i miss you when im so far away? i wanted to write you this song, and say i wont be gone so long. i hope that you're not happier without me, cause you and me, i think we're meant to be, but i dont want to cause no harm. can i steal a kiss, can i steal one twice today? i dont want you to do anything you dont want to do i just want to be in your arms. dont you understand, i want to hold your hand. i'll take you to the prom, if only i could dance. if my car wasnt broke down, i'd take you for a ride, i'd swim across lake michigan if you were on the other side.
