

Lies of Summer

Aimee Mann

Saw you at the fall
Picture on a closed-circuit
Boy you lost it all
Thinking you could rework it
Stole a credit card and ran away
Back in Louisville they called the play and now We'll all rewind and just Listen for the lies of summer Who gets hurt the most
The guys that you would call brother
Girls that loved a ghost
A ghost that had a sick mother
Now you're waiting for the meds to take but it Takes a miracle to heal this break and now We'll all rewind and just Listen for the lies of summer If the doctor will just sign this pass
I put my hand up on the plexiglass
And scan your face, to see if you're in there
Wait a sec I gotta write this down
'Cause once they put you in a paper gown
They leave no trace, like you've never been there So we'll all rewind and just Listen for the lies of summer We'll all rewind and wait to hear

Songwriters

Aimee Mann Published by

Lyrics © PROVIDENT FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941.
Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>