

Seed

Stereo Fuse

So you think I lost control have I hit the wall
There's no turning back as I take my fall
Nobody really seems to understand that I sealed my fate with my own hand
I am the seed that you planted in stone
Left for dead now heaven's calling me home
So you think that you can save my soul I've been down so long that I'd lost all hope

Can you pick me up make me clean again
Can you give me back my innocence
I am the seed that you planted in stone
Left for dead now heaven's calling me home
Would you be there for me in the end
Unconditionally my friend

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>