Breckenridge

Glass House Point

We used to sit and watch the cityscape
Sunlight looming in the sky
Lips couldnâ€™t wait to meet the taste
So we made love in the back seat of my car
She took my eyes and she poured them into hers

Theyâ€™re hazel now but they never stay the same
Breckenridge in a moonlight cascade
Two bodies burning love and embrace

We got nowhere to go, but Iâ€™ve gotta believe weâ€™re going somewhere
Your body feels warm
Her head is on my chest and her mind is withdrawn

You always close your eyes when youâ€™re with me
City lights are blinding in the night
We used to fog the glass in the backseat
And write our names in the windows to pass the time

Oh no, we got nowhere to go but Iâ€™ve gotta believe weâ€™re going somewhere
Your body feels warm
Her head is on my chest and her mind is withdrawn
Got nowhere to go but Iâ€™ve gotta believe weâ€™re going somewhere
Your body feels warm
Her head is on my chest and her mind is withdrawn

We got nowhere to go
But Iâ€™ve gotta believe
The part of being human
Means more to you than me

Lyrics Submitted by Rob Campbell

Lyrics provided by https://damnlyrics.com/