God Is A Lie

Wednesday 13

I've made a fist but I cannot knock upon that door 'Cause once I walk through it I won't be coming back no more It's strange how everything can change oh, so very fast Somewhere someone out there will always have the last laugh Just say a prayer for me in case I forget And when you speak of me don't say it in regret Life's a grave, dig it I'll put the noose around my neck Will you get to me just in time? I've got no reason left to live But I've got a hundred to die I'll put my hands together now Hold them up to the sky But there's no one to save me, yeah 'Cause I know God is a lie, God is a lie Everyday I look at myself and I wonder why I have written the soundtrack to the end of my life And as I climb this ladder now it's certain I will fall God, he must be deaf because he never heard me call Just say a prayer for me in case I forget And when you speak of me don't say it in regret Life's a grave, dig it I'll put the noose around my neck Will you get to me just in time? I've got no reason left to live But I've got a hundred to die I'll put my hands together now Hold them up to the sky But there's no one to save me, yeah 'Cause I know God is a lie, God is a lie Somebody save me Just say a prayer for me in case I forget And when you speak of me don't say it in regret Life's a grave, dig it now I'll put the noose around my neck Will you get to me just in time? I've got no reason left to live But I've got a hundred to die

I'll put my hands together now

Hold them up to the sky But there's no one to save me, yeah 'Cause I know God is a lie, God is a lie
