When You Go

Lisa Marie Presley

There's so much to offer, so much to throw away
The ever present darker side it's makin' you color blind
But luckily my blinded one, I know you and not what you've done
Not what you've done, ooh, you beautiful soulWhen you go, a feelin' that chokes
When you go, a fever that soaks
When you go, you go away into the unknown
When you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, 'cause it chokes, it chokesGiven all you are inside, a shaft of light that you can't hide
But an idle mind will dominate and feel all the demons steak
When you walk around that old street
Where you lived and knew you were there
You can have it again well, everthing's not brokeWhen you go, a feeling that chokes
When you go, a fever that soaks
When you go, you go away into the unknown
When you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, 'cause it chokes, it chokesWhen you go, a feeling that chokes
When you go, a fever that soaks
When you go, you go away into the unknown
When you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, 'cause it chokes, it chokesWhen you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, you break my heart
When you go, you go away into the unknown
When you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, you break my heart
When you go, you go awayWhen you go, you break my heart
Don't you go, yeah, 'cause it chokes, it chokes
