

Wallflower

Caroline's Spine

I could have died maybe I should have died when I saw you walk inside and has you shut the door
I put my eyes back on the floor when all I really wanted was to look some more.

Does a wallflower play or does a wall flower stay on his wall?

You see, I live alone, but I've made my happy home
all my furniture is centered around my phone and I'm waiting for a call, my imaginary friends and all those who would never let me be taken by the fall.

Does a wallflower know when it's time he outgrow his wall?

Only tmie has feeling for me
maybe Father Time feels sorry for me
there was a time when I knew it all why don't I ever leave my wall?
You know, that siren's getting louder
and these people are starting to crowd in on me. (all smell and taste is garlic and gunpoweder) cause I shot the bad guy dead, but he got me in the head with the girl of my dreams mentioning how much I've bled.
Where do the wallflower go when their flowers get pulled from the wall?

Though she says I'm brave and bold
she knows a flower cannot hold up a wall
I can't hold up this wall any longer...

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnlyrics.com/>