Cruel Sun

Rusted Root

See the bloody faces lifted to the sky
Do you want to run to a future left behind?
I remember asking why, there lies aggression
Separation where there should be love
Power plays while the people die
Let it rain and protect us from this cruel sun
Let it rain, let it rain, rain and protect us from this cruel sun
Open up your eyes, you'll feel it better
Open up your eyes, your eyes and let the child learn
I remember asking why, there lies aggression
Separation where there should be love
Power plays while the people die
I remember asking why, I remember asking why
I remember asking why, I remember asking why, why

Why does war kill only the small man?
Why does war kill only the small man?
I think we know, yes, we know
I think we know, know, know
Open up your eyes, feel it better
Open up your eyes, your eyes and let the child learn
I remember asking why
I remember asking why
I remember asking why
Let it rain, and protect us from this cruel sun
Let it rain, rain and protect us from this cruel sun
Let it rain, rain and protect us from this cruel sun
Let it rain, and protect us from this cruel sun
