American Dreams

Lazarus A.D.

Screams fill the air
Cannot bare this suffering
Won't accept what you can bring
It means nothing to meWith open arms everything to gain
Hateful glares my gifted pain
Utter bliss handed to you
You ain't shit and you know it's trueWalk the ground without a care
Digging deeper as I stare
Selfish whore personified
Caring not what lies insideI get drunk, I get high
Blue collar worker till I die
Your money will not buy
The perseverance in my eyeNailed to the ground to stay alive
Grasp my struggle to survive
Hand that feeds following you
You ain't shit and you know it's trueWalk the world without a care
Digging deeper as I stare
Selfish whore personified
Caring not what lives insideOne day you will see your life is worth nothing
By then you'll realize it's too late
And one day you'll find me I will be something
By then you'll realize it's too lateWalk the world without a care
Digging deeper as I stare
Selfish whore personified
Caring not what lives insideWalk the world without a care
Digging deeper as I stare
Selfish whore personified
Caring not what lives inside
