

Beating Hearts

Falls

Today's the day
I'm meant to meet you at the café©
The one that's right next to our old place
Yeah, I know it's been a while
I had a hard night
I'm running a little late, but please wait
I've got something that I need to say
It'll all change after that
I still hear the sound of your heart
It's beating like a drum
I still hear the sound of your heart
Traffic's a bitch
It takes an hour just to reach you
How I wish that we could start anew
And I'll wake up in your arms
You just can't come back and
Take your life back and
You can't come back and
Get it all back
You just can't come back and
Expect your life back and
You just can't come back and
Take it all back
I still hear the sound of your heart
It's beating like a drum
I still hear the sound of your heart
It's beating like a drum
I still hear the sound of your heart
It's beating like a drum
I still hear the sound of your heart
I still hear the sound of your heart
I still hear the sound of your heart
Today's the day
I'm meant to meet you at the café©
But in the end I just turned away
It'll all change after that
