Miss U Less, See U More

Faithless

Oh, woman!
I love the way you're so deliberate
How you light your cigarette
Head on one side as you pull
You look almost regal and
I'm diggin' it, on your mobile
One eye closed, blue smoke
Curling out your nose
Wearing one of my shirts and
What some call panty hose
'Cause you look wicked in scanty clothes
Long legs like an antelope
You're my antidote to city life, my pretty wife
Hooked up the year before
Together thirteen outta twenty four
And you would never guess
I wanna miss you less and see you more
See you more, see you more, see you more
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
How do I get to miss you less and see you more?
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
I can gauge your mood from your approach to food

You use your rude red shoes to accessorize your attitude
Desensitized to my roving eyes and ready smile
I get lovin' that's versatile, worth that extra mile
Lying next to me, your textured voice whispering
I'm listening with my whole skin
Holding onto the moment for all it's worth
How could I continue to be the sky without my earth
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
And when I kiss you, I'm never sure
How do I get to miss you less and see you more?
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better

Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
[Incomprehensible]Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Miss you less, see you more, love to know you better
Oh, woman!
