

Ready to Climb

A Telemetry

a bleakness radiates
towards one's zone
capturing a short attention

a weakness shows
it's final unrest
laden sound with no expression dismiss the insight heresy the rule

admit a broken result directed miss should be a clue

no mountain - cliff or gorge
to much for me
ready to climb

no fire - wind or storm
can hold me down
ready to climb

since of mission
warms the cold chill
blowing from the insecure

intuition guides
an unsure aching
far away from angst

retreat to build strength drain that guarded pool put caution on a wing and fly it to a waiting fool

to much for me
ready to climb

no fire - wind or storm
can hold me down

escape resistance
hold tight to the handles bar slide ahead of those snakes or be a dog that barks and scare those sharks

to much for me
ready to climb

no fire - wind or storm
ready to climb
