

Here's To The Life

MxPx

I have always tried to find
A little place that I could get away for a while
And now I'm noticing that there's
No clear frequencies, no empty space left on the dial
You just gotta make a little place for yourself
You just gotta take a little time to yourself
Here's to the life that we always never wanted
And somehow we've forgotten the road we've traveled on
Here's to the life I had to know that you're okay
And know you're here to stay, to know this isn't a trial
And now I take a breath to breathe
I turn around to leave, to get away for a while
You just gotta make a little place for yourself
You just gotta take a little time to yourself
Here's to the life that we always never wanted
And somehow we've forgotten the road we've traveled on
I'm so easy to forgive, except the way I live
It's everything I do, it's everything I do to you
You just gotta make a little place for yourself
You just gotta take a little time to yourself
Here's to the life that we always never wanted
And somehow we've forgotten the road we've traveled on
Here's to the life that we always never wanted
But now that we start counting, just get out alright
Here's to the life
