Too Late Tonight

Arid

Its too late tonight to save all of you
Ive got to hold on, make myself like you
You went on the velvet way
And every dying dayYouve got your own love to shake
Into your mind again
Babe, I want to know
Every breath that you saveAnd Ill be there when you burn
And Ill be there when you turnIts too late tonight
To go racing back for
It wont work anyhow
The way you loved him soGo on your wicked dance but every fight youre in Youre gonna end all alone
Shedding your blood again
Baby, I want to know every breath that you saveAnd Ill be there when you burn
And Ill be there when you turn
And Ill be there when you burn
And Ill be there when you turnEvery time it comes around
It picks you up and throws you down
All I know is I am bound to fall over with you
Love, you must be thinking of love
Love, you must be thinking of loveGot to keep moving
Lover you hide from me every time
Love, oh love, oh love, oh love
Yeah you must be thinking of love
You must be hiding outAnd its too late tonight to go running back for
Its too late tonight dont break every red rose
Its too late tonight
Hold your head up, its too late to go
