C'mon Collapse

On

If it's a problem
I want you to stay with me tonight
I'll understand you
It's my only claim to expertiseAnd if you attack me
I'll know it's my fault
And you were rightIsn't it a shame that you were right?
Every time you wake up in your skin
You simply have to put some motion inIf it's a problem
I know we can make it all work out
I'll understand you
Even when you try and fake me outC'mon collapse now
It's the time when everything comes outIn the time when everything is out
You know you will have to let it out
Even when you try and fake me outC'mon collapse now
It's the time when everything comes outIn the time when everything is out
You know you will have to let it out
Even when you try and fake me out
