

We Deal In Dreams

Live

Don't you feel so very pointless in the feelin' of the rain and the violence of the sun?

I must confess that I feel graciously bigger than the rain and hotter than the sun

What do you do, what do you say when the blood you've spilled is of your loved one?

And the kremlins of the world fall all around you?

We deal in dreams

We deal in dreams

We deal in structures that grow cold in our hearts

Oh fearful crying people

The fool is by the river, watching but not swimming

It takes energy not to get used to it and fall into this place

Where everything runs together and dies

This quiet kingdom, she is now and forever will she be in silent celebration

We deal in dreams

We deal in dreams

We deal in structures that grow cold in our hearts
