Hearts Open Slowly

Amanda Wilkinson

So you wonder what it might be like
If we close our eyes and give in
I admit I think about it too
And this ache for you never ends
It'd be easy to just let go
To get lost and forget we knowHearts open slowly
Real love is known to take its time
Each kiss is holy, dont rush, not yet
Just wait and let hearts open slowlyIt's like we touch each time you say my name
I feel the sweetest pain inside
I know you feel me when I look at you
As I make love to your eyes
Each emotion evolves and expands
It unfolds like a rose in your handsHearts open slowly
Real love is known to take its time
Each kiss is holy, dont rush, not yet
Just wait and let hearts open slowlyLong after the flames and the fire
We'll remember this dance of desireHearts open slowly
Real love is known to take its time
Each kiss is holy, dont rush, not yet
So there's no regret
Just wait and let hearts open slowly
Hearts open slowly
