

Bone Dance

Oketo

My head is hollowed in, my mouth's inside out.
Talking with myself because there's nobody else.

Well my teeth are breaking, bleeding...
and my words sell you innocent breathing.
Lying on up high and alone with a noose.
Well my bones are glued and my skin is stapled on.
My mind is falling, my mind is falling to pieces.

And took your hands, and you place them on my hip.
You kiss my lips and we lay down on the bed.
Smile with your eyes and you talk with your tongue, touch my body and you come undone.

My body's broken and my inside's covered with blue.
Look at the sun when your peace is dead.
Well brother, brother find you a truce.

WELL.I.TELL.YOU.NOW.THAT.I'M.FILLED.WITH.RAGE.
I HOLD ME BACK, but you don't dare repent.

Well everything is upside down.
I'm in too deep and I'm trying not to drown.
I feel it in my brain.
It's pulsing through my vein.

Walking on wire.
Running with desire.
Dancing with fire.
Dancing with fire.
Walking on wire.
Running with desire.
Dancing with fire.
Dancing with fire.
