Let You Go

Grace Potter

Your mind moved on
But your body didn't know
It was time to let go
It took a while to realize
That you would never want to be around
Without your feet on the groundThen you crossed that razor sharp line
There's no soft edges I can find
There's no turning back this time
You're just goneNow I gotta let you go
So it won't hurt no more
If I could let you go
Then I wouldn't feel sick no moreSometimes I wonder
If we hadn't gotten so close
This wouldn't hurt as much I suppose
I could survive a hundred lonely years
If I could get back just a moment
You were standing hereBut you crossed that razor sharp line
There's no soft edges I can find
There's no turning back tonight
You're just goneNow I gotta let you go
So it won't hurt no more
If I could let you go
I wouldn't feel sick no moreAnd I'm trying to find that time when I
Can smile about all these lonely memories
Maybe eventually
If I could just let you goI let you go
It doesn't hurt no more
I could let you go
No I don't feel sick no moreNow I find with the passing time
I'll be all right with only the memories
That you gave to meI can let you go
I could let you go
I can let you go
I can let you, I can let you go
