Daddy's Home

Dee Cisneros

June 19 2004 it brought twins to my eyes watching you being born my first son my little man I'm so proud to be your daddy never wanna disappoint you I just want you make you happy everyday I hope and pray I get to see you grow but if your daddy dies today there's some things you need to know always take care of family never disrespect your mother do your best in school protect your sister and your brotha give respect when it's giving always try to do what's right keep our name alive and always say your prayers at night i wanna give you all the things I never had I know your grandpa did his best but imma try to ve a better dad i promis thos without a doubt youll never be without every time time i leave the house you all that i think about my little son my number one i love you so much if you ever need me call my name and ill show up (i promis) your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier

7:30 o 7 i was blessed with a daughter my little girl naveÃ¡ im so proud to be your father this is for my baby girl this for my baby love she puts a smile on my face to replace the lug dont forget your daddy always gonna love you you always come first i put nothing in this world above you i hope and pray that i get to see you grow but if i dont theres a couple things you need to know respect yourself and dont be like them other girls always be a ladie and keep your body coverd girl your daddy loves you and i always will I'll die to take away any pain that you feel its hard to tell you no you dont like when daddy leaves nothing else matters your the reason daddy breathes your daddy is a king so that makes you a princess you came into my life and ever since I've been blessed your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier

This third verse is dedicated for my baby boy you make me smile even though you drive me crazy boy my pride n joy when i look at you i see me your daddys home because you need me i could never desert you i could never neglect you your dad would die for you son but id rather live to protect you your to young to understand but you will when your older if you ever need your dad just look over your shoulder and if im not there just know your father loved you dont worry about a thing cuz ill be watching from above you my angle baby i adore you there's nothing in this world that i wouldn't do for you your daddy isnt perfect but i try every day to provide a better life and keep a smile on your face and im happy when your happy im so proud to be your pops I'll always be there till the day my heart stops your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier your daddy's home and your daddys here to stay i do it all for you i love you more everyday i hope and pray that im here when your older but if im not just know your daddy was a soldier.
