

This Is Not the Way...

No Fuego

You turned and walked away. You turned your back and walked away. Left here with nothing more to say. And no one here will save you. Bleeding my heart. With punctured lungs, blistered eyes, and a bleeding heart I yearn. We walked the same lines and wed do it anytime, never to stray. We lived the same life, together wed cry, never to die.

Holding a loaded gun trying not to go off. Too late the damage has been done and no one here will save you.

Bleeding my heart. You just walked away.

We walked the same lines and wed do it anytime, never to stray. We lived the same life, together wed cry, never to die.
