SECRETS

This heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
Remember I need that heart to breatheI always try so hard to be her right
And all she does is fight the reasons why
The future always seems so bright
I don't know why she fears the light
You always try to hide and cover up the hurt inside
But I see through your lies
You know I'm what you need and I need you to breathe
So won't you takeThis heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
Remember I need that heart to breatheOh, if you've seen what I've seen you should know
You'd know it's not a good thing to let go
Three years of constant devotion are gone with our destructive emotions
Our love that once was lays in waste but I still offer youThis heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
Remember I need that heart to breatheI need you now
More than you know
Why won't you come home?
I need my heart to breathThere's a part of me that still can't sleep at night
Without you in my side
It's getting harder and harder to breathe
The farther and farther you get from meThis heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
I need that heart to breatheThis heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
Remember I need that heart to breatheThis heart is yours
So take it as you please
But if you walk away
Remember I need that heart to breathe
