

Pieces of a Dream

Anastacia

I thought I saw you late last night
But it was just a flash of light
An angel passing But I remember yesterday
Life before you went away
And we were laughing We had hope
And now it's broken And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a dream And now I'm lost
In restless nights
Just a whisper of the life
That we created Shadows falling
I am calling And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a The faded photographs
The frames of broken glass
The shattered memories
Time will soon erase All these souvenirs
Salt from a thousand tears
But when I wake up
You are never there, ho We had hope
And now it's broken And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a And I could see it clearly
Once when you were here with me
And now somehow
All that's left are pieces of a dream
Pieces of a dream
