

Hold You Down

Venture

You think that everybody loves you
When all they feel is hate
This world isn't spinning for you
It's laughing in your face
Everything they said about you
Why can't you believe it's true?
In the end you'll come up empty
Like you always do

This world will hold you down
It's all that I can feel
In my world I'll hold you down
It's all that I can feel

I know that everyone above you
They look at you in shame
The world collapsing all around you
No one else will feel the flame
Anyone who says they love you
Is lying to your face
All those things you've said about me
Will soon be washed away
This world will hold you down
It's all that I can feel
In my world I'll hold you down
It's all that I can feel

You think that everybody loves you
This world isn't spinning for you

You think that everybody loves you
When all they feel is hate
This world isn't spinning for you
It's laughing in your face

Everything you said about me
Will soon be washed away

This world will hold you down
It's all that I can feel

In my world I'll hold you down
It's all that I can feel
This world will hold you down
In my world I'll hold you down

Lyrics and Melody by Blake Self
Music by VENTURE
Copyright March 7, 2005

Lyrics submitted by Michael.

Lyrics provided by
<https://damnyrics.com/>