

By the Blood

Drowning Pool

I see my demons at night
They whisper in my ear
They say everything will be alright Burn with me don't you feel no tear!
One shot to take away the sting
and i dont care about one damn thing one shot may whatever bring
and i dont care about one damn thing
You know i come from dirt
You will remember me
By the blood on your shirt
You know i come from dirt
You will remember me
by the blood
I still see it every now and then The ghost of forgotten faith
With two few fingers for these sins
I can still spell my goddamn name!
One shot to take away the sting
and i dont care about one damn thing
one shot may whatever bring
and i dont care about one damn thing
You know i come from dirt
You will remember me
By the blood on your shirt
You know i come from dirt
You will remember me
by the blood
When i die
I'll die and have no regrets
When you die
You'll die and this world will forget
One shot to take away the sting
one shot may whatever bring
and i dont care about one damn thing
You know i come from dirt
You will remember me
By the blood on your shirt

You know i come from dirt

You will remember me
