

Even

Chris Brown

Ooh, yeah Do you remember the time when we fell in love?

'Cause I remember the night

When you had enough of me creeping, oh

You packed up your bags and said you were leaving

You found a new man and said we were even now

Even now

It's funny how everything seems to even out

Even now I wish you could put it behind you

Wish you would put up your blinders

Wish you would stop listening to you friends

And come to where no one would find us

Wish you would just keep your focus on me

So I can give you a reminder

That I can be who I'm supposed to

I can do better, I know you remember

Every single night, we were living life in love

Every single time, I was doing right, enough

To keep you around, now look at where I end up

Look where I end up Remember the time when we fell in love?

'Cause I remember the night

When you had enough of my creeping, oh

Baby, it was only for a season, maybe And it ain't really had nothing to do with you,

It was all really me (no, yeah)

'Cause I was tryna see the world like a dog on a leash (world, leash)

And you was tryna hold me back,

I ain't wanna let you go, I held on now (yeah)

I let you go and I knew I should have never let you go ahead of it You remember every single night, we were living life in love

Every single time, I was doing right, enough

To keep you around, now look at where I end up

Look where I end up

Remember the time when we fell in love?

'Cause I remember the night,

I know you had enough of my creeping

Baby, it was only for a season, maybe Keep going round, round in circles

(keep going round, round in circles)

Hoping you understand my circumstance

(hoping you understand my circumstance)

Lord knows I never meant to hurt you

(Lord knows I never meant to hurt you)
Is it because I'm a dog now?
Wish I knew then what I know now
I'm not the same when I go out
I just keep it on the low now
Is it because I'm a dog now?
I'm not the same when I go out
Wish I knew then what I know now
I just keep it on the low now Don't you remember the time when we fell in love?
'Cause I remember the night,
I know you had enough of my creeping
Baby, it was only for a season, maybe Keep going round, round in circles
Round in circles
Keep, keep, keep going round, round in circles
Round in circles
