

Candyman

Vertical Horizon

And even though I'm right behind you
Shadows haunt and taunt your hand
I cannot be your everything
But I'll be your candyman You move a sudden grace, a child upon the Earth
You wanted love to find you but you found it first And even though I'm right behind you
Shadows haunt and taunt your hand
I cannot be your everything
But I'll be your candyman We look through antiques on a fuzzy, fuzzy day
But you always know just what you want
Want right away And even though I'm right behind you
Shadows haunt and taunt your hand
I cannot be your everything
But I'll be your candyman And though you cry at night
It's to be expected
But know you're mine tonight So when the sun has died you dive into your mind
But your soul is never lost until the deal is signed And even though I'm right behind you
Shadows haunt and taunt your hand
I cannot be your everything
But I'll be your candyman
