

Day Old Hate

City and Colour

So let's face it this was never what you wanted
And I know its fun to pretend
Now blank stares and empty threats
Are all I have, they're all I have. So drown me and if you can
Or we could just have conversation.
And I fall, I fall, I falter
But I found you, before I drift away Now you still speak of day old hate
Though your whole world has gone up into flames
And isn't it great to find that you're really worth nothing
And how safe it is to feel safe. So drown me and if you can
Or we could just have conversation.
And I fall, I fall, I fall down
But I found you, before I drift away

Songwriters

GREEN, DALLAS Published by

Lyrics © Sony/ATV Music Publishing LLC Song Discussions is protected by U.S. Patent 9401941. Other patents pending.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>