

Beautiful

Sprung Monkey

Falling down from a gray cloud
Open wounds still bleeding
Yesterday won't forget my name
Tomorrow will never forgive me I never felt that I want to much
I never said that I need to much
But with the lack of the strength I need
There I was almost giving up Then I saw beautiful
And it opened up my eyes
When I found beautiful
It opened up my life Now, I know beautiful
And how things should be
You are my beautiful
Beautiful to me Laying down on a quiet night
Hoping that no one will find me
I never thought I could feel so low
Definition of empty I always knew that I felt too much
I always heard that I cared too much
But at the edge, down upon my knees
There I was almost giving up Then I saw beautiful
And it opened up my eyes
When I found beautiful
It opened my life Now, I know beautiful
And how things should be
You are my beautiful
Beautiful to me
Yeah, your so beautiful
