Unbroken

Symphorce

You're willing to lose, i'm willing to bet,
I'm willing to try and die for respect
Now i hear your lonely cries
Everything is safer now
Underneath all these lies
To find a way howI go out to think, a little sad
But soon enough i won't feel badTry all you want to Reached a point of no return
You're going to try too
Looking back, my bridges burnI wake to your memory,
A silent knowing grows within me,
Swallowed up in empty space
To the side of my faceClose my ears, feel my bleeding heart
Whats going on, we were like oneYou should beware
It's under the light
I know if you're scared
See the dark in my eyesSo impressed with all you do
Tried so hard to be like you
Flew so high and burnt the wing
Not lost my faith in everyhingAl that is left of me... is unbroken
So don't disturb me now 'cause i'm unbroken
Ican see the why, the when and how
