Closer

Better Than Ezra

And the morning light was breaking Slowly moving across the bed

He gets up without her waking

To the voices in his headThrough the shadows in the hallway

To the room they painted blue

And on the inside he is frightened

At a loss for what to doUntil he opens up his eyes

And the angels all look downEven closer than this life, closer than your faith

Closer than the things that you hold dearly and in vain

Closer than this life, falling through again

Giving more than anything that you could hope to winAnd he knows his life is changing

It's never easy letting go

For the first time you are mortal

As the child before you growsAnd he wonders at the sight

Of the joy that they have foundEven closer than this life, closer than your faith

Closer than the things that you hold dearly and in vain

Closer than this life, falling through again

Giving more than anything that you could hope to winAnd what would you intend to find?

Solitude? Your peace of mind?

Holding out for something less

Than touching the hand of God? Even closer than this life, closer than this faith

Closer than the things that you hold dearly and in vain

Closer than this life, falling through again

Giving more than anything that you could hope to winCloser than this life, closer finally

Living for the only thing

You ever made complete, oh, for the one thing

That you both did perfectly
