

99 With An Anchor

Twelve Gauge Valentine

I can see the pressures on you,
It's affecting everything you do.
You want out, you want out. Did you know it tears me in two?
You obsess on everything you lose.
You want out, you want out. And I'll keep you waiting,
Where this life is so unfair.
You want out, you want out. Wrap my fingers around your neck,
Till the shadows are dancing around you now,
Fingers only to drag you down.
Wait for someone to pull you above the rest. Take this pain from me (I want you walking away, right now, right now)
Take this pain from me (And take this pain, And take this pain from me)
Take this pain from me (Chasing after, weakened and suffering)
Take this pain from me (Leave and free me now) I'll be so far away from you,
To honor anything, anything you want. Everytime I think of you, (Eyes are open)
Eyes are open now. (All the things we've had are through)
Eyes are open, eyes are open. Take this pain from me (I want you walking away, right now, right now)
Take this pain from me (And take this pain, And take this pain from me)
Take this pain from me (Chasing after, weakened and suffering)
Take this pain from me (Leave and free me now) We all have, we all have someone.
You wanted, you wanted more. Leave me now... Every time you cried out my name
You said to me that you can't leave now
(Walk away from me now.)
Everything that comes to mind
Should help you find it the last time I see you.
(Walk away from me now.) Everything you want is over now.

Lyrics provided by

<https://damnllyrics.com/>