Please Believe

Sixwire

Road to love is long and winding
It's hard to know which path to take
When you're constantly reminded
Of all the times your heart will break
The odds are low of ever finding
Someone who'll go with you all the wayI know you can sense the danger
Waiting there at every turn
We both know sooner and later
We'll reach the point of no return
Baby, let me be your savior
A promise you can take me at my wordPlease believe, your heart is safe with me
You'll never have to doubt the way I feel
Please have faith baby, what else can I say?
I'm down on my knees, I'm beggin' you please, please believeNow I know my search is over
It's all out of my control
I know my destiny's been chosen
You are returning my soul
All the fears that you've been holdin'
Don't you think it's time to let them go?Please believe, your heart is safe with me
You'll never have to doubt the way I feel
Please have faith, baby, what else can I say?
I'm down on my knees, I'm beggin' you please, please believeThis may be our only chance
So baby if you can justPlease believe, your heart is safe with me
You'll never have to doubt the way I feel
Come on baby, please have faith, tell me what else can I say?
I'm down on my knees, I'm beggin' you please, please believeWhoa
Now I'm down on my knees
Beggin' you please, please believe
Please, please, yeah, hu hu, ooh yeah
